Kiyokawa Family Orchards has been growing the finest produce available since 1911. The fertile soils found at the base of Mt. Hood and rarified, glacier-fed water sources create a unique growing environment allowing us to offer over 100 distinct varieties of apples, pears, and Asian pears. We take pride in promoting local and sustainably grown produce, and utilizing a farm management system that incorporates the best management practices.

You will find a visit to our orchard an unforgettable family experience with breathtaking views of Mt. Hood and beautiful grounds for your touring and picnicking pleasure. Kids will love our play area.

Fruit Stand: Our farm/fruit stand offers fresh cider, local honey, jams and baked goods as well as many seasonal fruits.

U-Pick Apple Orchard: If you prefer to pick your own apples, we have the largest U-Pick apple orchard in the valley. Please check our website for availability of U-Pick apples.

The Kiyokawa Family takes pride in conservation. These are the steps we are taking to ensure the health and quality of our produce.

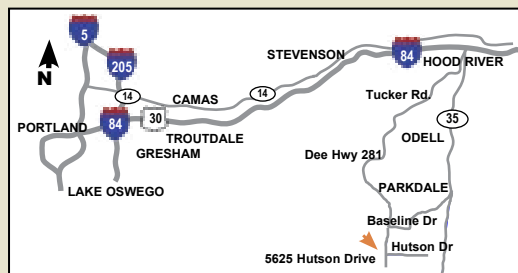

Integrated Fruit Production System: This is a holistic approach to the care and management of the orchard. This allows us to reduce the use of chemicals and fertilizers as well as to conserve water.

Water Conservation: We have converted over half of the orchard grounds to a micro-irrigation system with an estimated water savings of up to 30%.

Wildlife Habitats: Our orchard borders Evan's Creek, a natural wildlife corridor. To ensure further protection for wildlife, we maintain a generous Riparian boundary so that food and cover remain available for the species naturally occurring there. We have also installed American Kestral nesting boxes throughout the orchard. These birds are part of our natural management plan for small mammals and insects.
